2006: God, the Son

The co-equal and co-eternal Son of the Father, who became incarnate in Jesus Christ for the redemption of the world. Scripture stresses both the divinity and the humanity of the incarnate Son of God, and the necessity and total sufficiency of his atoning death for human redemption. Through his resurrection and ascension, he intercedes for believers at the right hand of God.

2227: Immanuel

An OT name given to Jesus Christ, meaning "God with us".

Actual uses of the name Immanuel

ISA 7:14 The name was given originally to a child of Isaiah's day who would signify God's salvation and judgment for Judah; ISA 8:7-8:10 The original fulfilment of the Immanuel prophecy would bring judgment on Judah; MAT 1:22-1:23 Isaiah's prophecy is fulfilled through the virginal conception of Jesus Christ.

2230: Messiah, coming of

The coming of a figure chosen and anointed by God to deliver and redeem his people. Anointing was seen as a sign of being chosen by God for a special task of leadership or responsibility. The OT looked ahead to the final coming of such a figure to usher in a new era in the history of the people of God; the NT sees this expectation fulfilled in the person and work of Jesus Christ.

2375: kingdom of God

Or, less frequently, “kingdom of heaven”, the kingly rule of God in the lives of people and nations. It refers to the recognition of the authority of God, rather than a definite geographical area, and begins with the ministry of Jesus Christ.

2376: kingdom of God, coming of

The kingdom of God comes into being wherever the kingly authority of God is acknowledged. Although God is always sovereign, Scripture looks to a future “realm” or “reign” of salvation. This has come in Christ and yet will come in its fulness only when Jesus Christ returns.
